) ORTLAND, WEDVESDAY, MARCH 23, 1887. "THE FOSSIL ELEMENT!

California," and one of the journals of that clate, "is at present enfering a high state of boom." There are many facts going to show that this observation is true. Industry has been developed in many parts of California to the point where it creates wealth rapidly. Immigration is increasing at a rate never before equated in the history of the state. "The fossil element," we one told the leads to the true. element," we are told, "is lossing its restraining augmationeness," and "if a little public spirit can be infused into the niggardly minds of a few who continue to cry this at every proposed improvement," no drawback will remain

Oregon, with still more reason to complain of the weight of its "foss I element" than Califo ms, is having even a harder struggle to get rid of the burder. The accumulated inertia, if we may use the expression, of nearly forty years, becomes a most difficult thing to set in motion. It is about as easy to remove mountains. Habits barden into permanent this of character, and survive and persist and are banded down to descendarts. When the influx of new population is slow it cannot leaven and ferment and move the old mass, but is itself soon lost in it and 'ossifized by it Honce we have in Oregon what may be described as an aimost stable con-dition of society and affire. I Countives to axertion are lost, and there is sad lack of enter-

A jear or two ago The Oregonian said that the things our state most needed were funerals and sheriffs sales. Some thought it a hard saying, but it contained truth enough for a rub, else it would not have been minded. It is probable that in no state does the "fossil element" block the way so much as in Oregon. If California has reason to complain of this element, what should be the notes of Oregon's lamentation?

HIGH LICENSE IN NEW YORK.

The vote that carried the high treme bill now before the New York legislature to a third reading was cast wholly by republican members. Every democratic member present voted in the negative. Two republicans, one from the city of New York, the other from Brooklyn, voted may. The New York Evening Post, a mugaump paper, whose affiliations during the last three years have been with the democratic party, speaks with great severity of the action of that party on this question. The Mail and Express, speaking on the same point, says that the bill, though opposed by the solid democratic vote in the legislature, has the favor of large numbers the legislature, has the favor of large numbers of prominent democrats in the metropolis and, in fact, is supported by the best citizenship of the state, regardless of party.

The bill imposes a tax of $1000 a year upon those who sell spirits, and $100 a year upon those who sell where and well these.

those who sell vinous and mait liquors. It is believed that the is about as radical and re-strictive a measure as can be enforced in the state of New York. It has been fought at all points by the liquor interest with as much bitterness as if it were an iron-clad prohibitory act. Indeed the associated liquor sellers have act. Indeed the associated liquor sellers have gone so far us to assert that they would prefer probabilion to this system of taxation, because they could sell spirus in deflance of a prohibthory law with more profit that they could real-ize after paying this heavy tax. It might be supposed that the vendors of vinous and main liquors would be content with the tax of $100, which they are to be required to pay, but most of them want to sell spirits also, and therefore join in the opposition

it is considered good policy in New York to separate these interests as far as pneamin, since the chief evils of the liquor trade flow from sale and consumption of distribed liquors, and in chief, where it is not possible to suppress the trade, much may be gained by holding a check and, much may be gamen by noming a cheek upon the forms of it that lead to greatest abuses, while an attempt at total suppression, through prohibitory acts, would only promote surreptious sale and use of alcohol in more concentrated and deadly forms

Again, how utterly hopeless would be the efof the get prohibitory legislation in a state like hew York is evinced by the fact that it requires through the legislation. The bill was carried to the third reading by barely the number of yotes

A LONG LIFE

On Monday the Emperor William of Germany celebrated his ninetieth birthday. When Lord John Russell died, in 1878, upwards of 80 years of age, it was pointed out that his public carser, which began with the congress of Vienna, after Waterioo, closed with preparations for the congress of Berlin But the remarkable career of Lord Russell, who had sat at the feet of Fox, Lord Russell, who had sat at the feet of Fox, who had accompanied Wellington in his Peninsula campalgns, who had conversed with Napoleon at Kiba, had known Metternich, Talleyrand, Byron, Meore and Canning, did not cover a longer period of European politics than that of the German emperor, who still lives to be congratulated by his people on his reasonable good health and happiness.

The German emperor is the son of that unfortunate king of Prussia who was so terribly defeated by Napoleon at the battle of Jens in 1803. The mother of Emperor William was the heal.

The mother of Emperor William was the hear tiful Queen Louise of Prussia, who died early, heart-broken, it was thought, because of the mistortunes inflicted on her country by the arms of the French Emperor William was 9 years old when Jena was lost he was 18 when Waterloo was won, be was 27 when Byron died he has seen since he attained his majori; in 1318 nearly all the great names of the mneteenth century rise to eminence has lived to see most of them borne to the grave. In his boyhead the first hapoleon ruled Fran e Pitt and Fox England Alexan ier the First Russia and Thomas Ieffe son was president of the United Sates In his early madened Louis E ghteenth ruled True, George Canning England Wester, 187 and (then had not ye attated the bright not there is no Byrn, Stolley, Sect, 197 bell, (oleradge, Moore, Keats, Wordsworth, 197 bell, Cheridge, Moore, Keats, Wordsworth, 197 bell, Chiller and Lamb had not ye finished their work, and America had no li erature for 20. even living or Cooper had risen to reputa and. The emperor of Germany was 40 years of age when the dawning light of such stars as Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, Hugo, Dicksna and Thackerty began to twinkle in the sky. When he was nine years of age he saw the French enter Berlin, when he was 15 he saw the French stans victors in Paris, and 55 years later he marched into Paris as conquerer of France. He has known what revolution meant in 1843, has had to fight for his crown in the very city of Berlin that to-day halls him with enthusinstic spplause he has lived to see the great American republic, that was but fourteen years old when he was born, fight a fearful battle for life and win it. His ninety years of life have covered the most momentous and interesting period of the history of the modern world on both sides of the Atlantic, if not in literature or art, sides of the Ausbice, it not in literature or art, certainly in politice and industrial invention. No public man of our century lived so long save Lord Lyndhurst, Lord Brougham and Sir Mosses Montefore in England, while in America the only nonagenarians of note have been President oury nonsgenarians of note have been President John Adams, Horace Binney and Peter Cooper Is it worth while to live so long and do so little as Emperor William has done. Until he found Basnarck William was a mere hard-beaded, stalwart grenadier, Bismarck in statesmanship and Moltke in soldiership organized victory over Austria and France, and framed, founded and established the empire of Germany for this aged figurehead. Cavour created the kingdom of Italy for the rude, licentious soldier sing, victor Emanuel. Emperor William is a man of upright domestic character, but he will stand in history no higher than Victor Emanuel His fortune was to find a man of genlus in Bis-marck to uphold his throne and make him the nominal ruler of an empire. Without Bismarck, Emperor William would be King William to-day —if, indeed, left to his own capacity, he would have kept his seat as king of Prossia. The priwate virtues of William, Blamarck has turned to the best public account, while his harsh military n has been enlarged to the point of There is nothing in the speciacle of great age, pure when it loses bodily activity and mental vivacity, that excites any envy or respect in the intelligent observer. The Spanish general, Mondragen, noarching in winter at the head of his army and winning a great victory when over 90 years of age, is a sight to command admiration. Lord Palmerston spoke with vigor in parilament, and rode horseback from morning until night, trotting twelve niles in a single hour, when he was 60 years of age, Lyndhurst held the close attention of the house of lords when he was nearly 81. Beau malial was a nowarful he was nearly 84. Reac malield was a newarful lie was nearly 81. Beac melisid was a powerful speaker at 78, up to his lest lilness, and Gladstone at 78 is in the lusty winter of a great career his voice can yet hold his audience, his pen is as trenchant as in his younger daya. Cardinal Newman is 80, while Whitter and Holmes still write and p int fine thoughts at 78. Tennyson at 78 and Browning at 75 are still men that the thinking world is willing to read, 0 d age with the hodily powers active and the men lat powers vivanous is worth reaching, but old age, like that of Emperir William, is not worth age, like that of Emper r William, is not worth much to himself, for he cannot ride after the hounds, and nothing to the world, for in his best days he could not think to any purprise. The aged emperor is nothing but a man who if he had no been born to a close would have been a grenadier or bases. Le sub-sited the military pussion of his house without the military talent of the great Freteri Lor the Duke of Bruns-wick. His staiwart frame and outdoor life have given bim | n th of day , but as an intellectual creture he is if it more consequence to history than stark or Soutter, two stout revolutionary generals, who sidd not use of death until past of years of age. It a mone does not begin to die at the top so long as his mental force is not dimmed, old age a equal to such good work as John Quinny Adams and Beaconsfield did in their last days, but old age that stands for "second childishness and mere childen," when the power of worldly work is extinct, and the flame of life flickers like a candle within a windowless tenement, is not a sight to awaken en-thusiasm, to evoke congratulation, to excite envy or admiration. Better death as it came to Andrew and Beecher, in the heat and stir of worldly activity than to live a century only to stand for years a dead tree, and tumble a worth-less log at lest

Senator Cullom of Illinois has told the Phila-delphia Press that the republican party next year will ask for control of the government of the country on the ground that the democratic party is not up to the standard which the coun party is not up to the standard which the country requires for control of its affairs." The present administration, he continued "had failed to meet even the expectations of its own party, and the party is divided and has been divided from the beginning of the administration on all questions. It is divided on the tariff, on eilver, and in regard to its foreign policy, so that it has shown its unitness for the conduct of national affairs."

Appropriations for the navy this year exceed those for the army. The figures are those For the navy, $25,753,165, for the army, $23,724,718. Appropriations for pensions reached the predigines total of $76,22,500. We are spending on army, navy and pensions over $125,000,000, a sum almost equal to the cost of the greatest military satabilishment of writers. est military establishment of Europe.

The champion of the English turf, the famous race horse Ormonde, has been withdrawn from the course. From some cause his respiratory organs have become affected, and a thickening of the membranes of his throat has made him what is termed a "rgarer." A month or two ago his owner, the Duke of Westminster, was affered $100,000 for this horse

The queen's jubilee in June next will cost England something. The coronalion of George the Four b cost $1,200,000 That of William the Fourth cost $250,000, and that of Victoria $200,000. The estimate for the Thankagiving service alone in Westminster Abbey next Jun

The Knights of Labor in the March elections carried five towns in Rutland county, Vermont, including Rutland, the largest and most flourishing piace in the state. The board of selectmen chosen for Rutland is made up of a black-smith, a farmer, two day laborers, a hostler and a marchant.

The Francial Chronic expects that twenty millions of trade dollars will be presented for exchange under the recent act of congress, and ten millions is the lowest estimate. A very great swindle was the passage of this act, as we have repeatedly risen to remark in very plain language.

30AED OF TRADE.

It was suggested that no action be taken on the report at this time as 1, would be published in THE OREGONIAN, and all interested would be able to loread it and could vote more understandingly at he next meeting. On motion the meeting adjourned till 7 30 o'clock

[To state more clearly the location recommended by the committee The blocks are in Tanner creek guich, immediately east of what is called the Morrison street bridge and adjoining B street. The building would have to be on frestles, and the boller, engines, etc., would be below the surface of the street]

U.S. Grand Juny.—The grand jurors subpensed for the U.S. district court appeared gasterday and answered to their names. Following is the list: Frankin Stout, Yambill, foreiman: Joseph Delay, Albina: W. F. Alien, East Portland; W. L. Price, Benton; J. T. Chitwood, Clacksmar: George W. Spencer, Benton: Benton Mays, Wasco; S. C. Hodges, Washington; D. W. Keene, Jr., Marlon; Henry Chambers, Benton; Wm. Masters, Fortland; J. K. Gribble, Clacksmans; W. F. Coulter, Yambili; Samuel Robson, Yambili; Thomas Cox, Washington; David Fate, Washington, They were charged by Judge Deady and at once entered on the discharge of their duties. It is understood that the principal business to be acted upon by the jury is connected with swamp land masters. Deputy U.S. Marshal Frash has been gone to the southern portion of the state for some time to subpens witnesses in swamp land cases. The last heard of him he had, in the absence of any public conveyance, chartered a mule and started out to plow through six feet or so of soft snow to get over into the Klamath Country, where swamp land is plenty.

wamp land is plenty.

RUMPUS IN A GAMBLING DRN.—Late last byoning Wm. Rhich, better known as "Oyster Billy," lodged a complaint at the police station Billy," lodged a complaint at the police station against one James Anderson, a barkeeper at Emil Weber's fars room on Aider street, charging him with assault and battery. Policeman Tichenor arrested Anderson, who put up $10 bail. It seems that Oyster Billy was playing at Weber's 'are gau e, and being somewhat intoxicated, and having but little money, soon managed to rake himself obnoxious. He became noisy, and was told to shut up or he would be put out, and replied that there was no one there big enough to put him out. Anderson tackled him and had his shirt torn off, his face ecratohed and his shins kicked, but Gody, a lockout for the game, came to his assistance, and fired Billy bodily. He at once went and caused the arrest of Anderson, who thus gets the worst of the deal in every respect. Enrich was a short time since connected with the Salvation Army, but it appears did not cerive much benefit from the connection. This little row may be the manage of letting the police know that there is at least one gambling game running in town.

Sprinkling the Strakers.—Dust has actually made its unwelcome appearance, most probably in answer to the earnest and united prayers of in answer to the carnest and united prayers of the public that the windows of heaven would cless, and that the genile showers would no longer patter on roofs and plash softly in the muddy thoroughfares. Skeptically disposed persons will probably attribute the change to the plair, pract cal soushine of the past few days, but anyway the mud is rapidly being metamorphosed into fine, penetraing dust. Front and First streets are dustier than any others in the city, and will require the services of a sprinkler direct. Vesterday the superheadent of streets ordered out a few of these huge city watering pola, which have been reading in idleness since the first rainstorm last fail, and started them up and down Front and First streets. This was done so as to "lay the dast" and enable the sweeper to operate last night with effectiveness. With a continuance of this weather a dozen street sprinklers will find constant employment.

THE CLIMPIAN.—Capt. James Carroll, late of the Pacific coast steamship Idaho, arrived here yesterday for the purpose of taking charge of the steamer Olympian, which has recently been fitted up for the Alsaka roote. Capt. Carroll accompanied the Idaho as far neith as Nanaimo, and there left her in charge of Capt. Ingalls, who took her to Alsaka. Capt. Carroll theresisted Esquimat harbor in regard to placing the steamer Olympian in the dry dock for sometpairs to the bottom of the ship. He-found the gates of the dock to be only the steamer Olympian in the dry dock for sometpairs to the bottom of the ship. He-found the gates of the dock to be only 65 feet, and the Olympian's width is 70. It will therefore be necessary to take her to San Francisco, and she will sail in a few days for that port. Capt Carroll expects to have the repairs completed so that he can get around to Tacoma about April 12, shortly after which he will sail for Alsaka. The fact of Capt. Carroll being in command of the Olympian will add no little to the pleasure of a voyage to the north upon the magnificent steamer. THE OLYMPIAN.—Capt. James Carroll, late of

OUTLOOK FOR THE FISHING SERION.—A prominent owner of a manery down the Columbia, who was in the city resterday, gave a very encouraging account of the present outlook for the fishing season. There is great activity, among the canneries and extensive preparations are being made for the season, which will open April I. He says already that salmon are beginning to run in large numbers and he thinks the catch will be unusually berry this year. After the first of next month the lower river will present a very lively appearance, when all the fishermen start out with their boats. A few days since a number of boxes filled with twine for selines arrived here overland and will be

PROBABLE SUICIDE .- Vesterday morning Paul Fosinial, a middle-aged Italian who has been rooming with A. De Martini at No. 28 B street, was missed from his room. On a table was found a note addressed to De Martini, informing him where to collect a small balance due him and sking him to forward a letter to a friend. It concluded with the statement that the writer, Fosinial, had thrown himself in the river, and wishing De Martini an eternal farewell. In the accompanying letter he declared that he was irred of waiting for death to come in a matural way, and had counteded to drown himself. He had intended to do so last week, but had postponed the matter till the 21st. Fosinial is a man of intelligence, well known among his countrymen all over this coast, where he has resided for many years. His friends have no doubt that he has made away with himself as stated in bie letter. Fosinini, a middle-aged Italian who has

SUIT OVER THE OLD CEMETERY. - About SUIT OVER THE OLD CEMETERY. — About nineteen years ago James Terwilliger, now an old and well-known cepitalist here, donated to the city of Portland four acres of land, bounded by Hood and Corbeit streets and the macadamized road, to be used for cometery purposes. Ten years since that land was incurporated within the city proper, and at the same time an ordinance was passed inhibiting the buried of deceased persons within the city limits. After the passage of that ordinance the authorities cut up the four acres of cometery property into lois and streets. The donor claiming that the city of Portland, having failed to utilize the land for the purpose it was donated, it is aligned, is about beginning action for its recovery. The value of the property at the present time is estimated to be about $50,000.

CHARGED ALSO WITH STRALING.—A warrant is out in Justice Tuttle's court for Charles Turk on a charge of the larceny of a value and clothon a charge of the larceny of a value and clothing contained therein, belonging to William Malon, of the total value of $35.75. As the story grees Mahon went to Charley Turk's house to board. March I or thereabouts he was taken ick, and went to St. Vincent's hospital for treatment. On recovering he went to Turk's for his things, first seeing Mrs. Turk, then Charley, both of whom put him off with excuses. Charley finally skipped to astoria, where, as has already been mentioned, he was arrested for assault with attempt to commit rape. Yesterduy Constable Sprague went after him. On Charley's return he will be arraigned before Justice Tuttle on both charges.

SAW MILL TO BE STARTED UP .- Mr. J. B. SAW MILL TO BE STARTED UP.—Mr. J. B. Montgomery, who returned a few days ago from the East, intends to start up his big saw mill at Skamockawa about the first of May. It capacity is 15,000,000 to 25,000,000 feet of lumber a year and the chances are good for its being kept running the year round. It will give employment, directly and indirectly, to about 100 men. The lumber will be shipped principally to San Francisco and the East. White East Mr. Montgomery was offered a contract for furpishing 6,000,000 feet of lumber to a firm which supplies railroads and needs about 30,000,000 feet a year. One of the firm will arrive here next month to conclude negotiations. VERDICT FOR $2500.—The jury in the case of

To Commence Discharging.—A few days ago To COMMENCE DISCHARGING.—A few days ago the English bark Glentrar arrived at this post and is now moored at Hianders' what, near the foot of C street. She is a very neat and trim appearing craft. The bark came from London direct, and brings an asserted cargo consisting principally of cement, some 700 harrels in all. As yet the seals on her hatches have not been disturbed, and the vessel is in temporary charge of the custom house. To day the work of discharging curpo will probably commence. Most of the crew of the tientary, it is learned, have deserted the vessel. On the way up the river two k French leave without consulting the papials's taste or his convenience, and since the vessel, reached portan other joily son of Neptime has skipped out.

FAB FROM HOME.—L. N. Fleischner writes to a friend in this city of a surprise he had about six weeks ago. He : B traveling in Africa and six weeks ago. He is traveling in Africa and was with a party of forty-five, principally Englishmen, on an excuration up the Nite, some 600 miles above Cairo. Lundheon was served and Fleischner was not a little surprised when the waiter brought him a piece of Columbia river caimon. His fellow travelers pronounced its delicacy, and Fleischner thought canned salmon was prefit good eating. That salmon packed away in a dark, al-tight can must have had a dismal, lonely journey of it, and no doubt he too was surprised when daylight canne to him to find an Oregonian so far from home.

QUICKLY-MADE BUTTER -- Mr. W. S. Ladd yes-QUICELY-MADE BUTTER.—Mr. W.S. Ladd yesterday morning received a package of neat prints from his Hezel Kern farm, back of East Portland, which had been made from the morning's miking of bis tand of Jerseys, and which was churned, washed, saited and made into prints and in the wagen on its way to town within an hour and a half from the time the milk was taken from the cows. This would have been an utter impossibility a few years ago but now by the aid of separators driven by steamand other labor-saving machines the cream is whirled out of the mil c and juggled into glitedge butter before it has fairly got cold.

AGAIN FOSTONED.—In Judge Stearne's court peaterday, the case of M. B. Righlo, charged with giving a morrgage on property that did not belong to him, was called for trial. The case is an old one, and has frequently been called up. Yeslerday it was again postponed on account of Raukin's absence. When last heard from he was in Hismarck, Dakota. Raukin is out on bonds which are grod and sufficient, and will probably show up all right, as he has always appeared before when called upon.

UNFROVERD ASSAUTT.—V. Alarday of armoon.

Unprovoked a mault,--- Y- sterdry afternoon George Smith, a tongt, heatled two guis near the residence of Ma: Ketth, and made a motion as if to assault them. Mr. Ketth, who was near, went to the grief protection, when Smith struck him a violent blow, which prograted him. Smith then ran away. Two of Mr. Ketth's sons, who were in the house, followed and overtook bim and turned him over to policeman Collins.

IN UNIFORM .- The messenger boys of the IN UNIFORM;—The messenger boys of the telephone company zame out yesterday in hand-some uniform suits of navy blue with gill buttons and with chevrons of gold cord on their selectes to denote their rank. They have neat cape of the naval pattern to match, with a brass plate in front on which are the initials of the American District Telephone company. The boys are going to make an effort to "live up" to their uniform, which is the smartest in the city.

DR. JOHN BULL'S ST'S LIST FOR THE CURE OF

FEVER and ACUE Or CHILLS and FEVER, AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this colobrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all rom-edies over offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPECHY and PERMANENT three of Ague and Fever, or Ch. Haand Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear entire Western and Southern country to usus, him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has look sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a per-fact restoration of the general health. It is, a observer, prudent, and in every case more cerl ottover, prudent, and in every 0888 more cer-tain to ours, fit is use is continued in smaller does for a week or two after the disease has beet, checked, more especially in difficult and long atanding cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowols in good order. Should the patient, however, re-quirea estharti medicine, after having taken three or four closes of the Tonic, a single doss of KERT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS
